The English Curriculum at Glenmere Community Primary School

Here at Glenmere Community Primary School, we believe that our English curriculum should excite, engage and enthuse pupils, enabling them to communicate both written and verbally.

Our English curriculum is split into the following:

Phonics and Early Reading

Speaking and Listening

Reading

Writing

- > Transcription (handwriting and spelling)
- → Composition
- ➤ Grammar and punctuation

Phonics

Statement of Intent

The aims of our reading curriculum is for children to become more fluent and effective readers who have a rich vocabulary and enjoy reading for pleasure.

Implementation

Through the teaching of phonics, children are taught the essential skills needed for reading. At Glenmere we use Rocket Phonics as a systematic synthetic phonics programme. All teaching and materials are used to support the teaching within these lessons. Phonics is taught daily to all children in Reception, and KS1. All pupils are provided with fully decodable books and these are introduced when all the grapheme phoneme correspondences have been taught.

Extra support is provided to those in Year 2 who have not passed phonics screening in Year 1 and interventions are planned for those children who are working below expected levels. Once children move into Year 3, we teach phonics as an intervention for those who are still identified as needing support with reading, alongside other reading comprehension interventions.

There is the phonic overview which we follow, in line with Rocket Phonics. We will ensure all sounds are taught within the half term, however, to keep the pace of learning at the rate which enables pupil to make the accelerated progress, sounds will be taught at a pace needed for pupils. Once all sounds have been taught for the half term, there will be opportunity for consolidation and intervention.

Impact

The teaching of phonics starts as soon as children join reception. Assessments are completed at the start of Reception and Year 1 and then formative assessments are carried out within daily and weekly teaching through observations. End of half-term assessments are also used as a tool to identify strengths and next steps.

In the summer term of Year 1 there is a national phonics test where children have to read 40 real and alien words to check their understanding of phonics.

Reading

Implementation

Reading is at the core of everything we do, acting as a key life skill that provides access to all aspects of the curriculum. At Glenmere, children learn both the skills of reading using their knowledge of phonics in EYFS and Key Stage 1 and how to become competent readers as well as teaching the skills of comprehension.

Reading is taught three times a week with whole class reading lessons (VIPERS) or 30-minute phonics lessons daily in EYFS and Year 1 – the teaching of phonics continues into Year 2. Lessons use a variety of different stimulus: picture books, video clips, extracts from books, short texts and pictures.

In order to ensure even coverage of the curriculum, we use VIPERS to cover the content domains in line with the expectations at the end of Key Stages 1 and 2. These are taught explicitly within reading lessons. Teachers reference these during explicit teaching of reading skills.

- V Vocabulary (give/explain meaning of words in context 2a explain how meaning is enhanced through choice and words and phrases 2g)
- I Inference (make inferences from the text/explain and justify inferences with evidence from the text 2d)
- P Prediction (predict what might happen from detailed stated and implied 2e)
- E Explain (identify/explain how information/narrative content is related and contributes to meaning as a whole 2f)
- R Retrieval (retrieve and record information 2b)
- S Summarise (summarise main ideas 2c)

During these lessons, pupils have the opportunity to discuss the use of language, widen their vocabulary and develop their levels of comprehension. Lessons are based on good quality literature with a focus on developing answers to reading questions.

The explicit teaching of reading takes place either whole class or in small guided groups, depending on the year groups preference based on their cohorts needs.

For individual reading in EYFS, Year 1 and Year 2 we use Rocket Phonics reading books in line with the SSP programme. These are fully decodable and are given once children are confident with all their grapheme phoneme correspondence within the given book band. Pupils in KS2 may also access these books where phonics still needs to be taught.

Within book bands in Year 2, we continue to use Rising Star with Comet Street Kids up to gold. Pupils in Year 3 will access Rising Stars Galaxy for Lime and Brown book band. This is there to aid the transition from Key Stage 1 to Key Stage 2. Moving into Upper Key Stage 2, there is a wider variety of genres covered, looking at longer novels and more detailed texts, using books from Badger Learning moving pupils up to Black in Year 6. Once children are fluent decoders, in each class there will be a selection of books which are pitched at the level expected in the given year group – with books to also challenge and support – this will be where children are able to choose their home reading book from. This is aimed to encourage the element of reading for pleasure element of home reading. Children at Glenmere are also encouraged to have a 'Reading for Pleasure' book from the wealth of books within the classroom - or alternatively with reluctant readers or pupils in Key Stage 1, a book to read with a parent/carer. We believe that active encouragement of reading for pleasure is a core part of every child's education entitlement whatever their background or attainment. In order to promote reading for pleasure at Glenmere we have included the following:

- All pupils are encouraged to have a reading for pleasure book as well as their book banded books
- All classrooms have reading for pleasure books in reading corners/areas within the classroom
- Each year group has a time class reading book where the teacher reads for pleasure
- Reading for pleasure slots are planned into the school timetable
- Reading Squad are employed and run the reading zone within the quiet area during lunch times.
- Book Swap Shop
- Reading Newsletters

The use of Pupil Premium funding is used to support reading. Specific pupils are targeted to ensure that they are given regular 1:1 reading time with clear and specific questioning.

At Glenmere we use the PM Benchmarking kit to assess children's reading. It allows us to identify children's instructional or independent reading levels using fiction and non-fiction texts, identify the knowledge, skills and strategies children use when reading unseen texts, assess children's fluency when they read aloud, along with assessing children's retelling strategies and it helps to determine children's comprehension and understandings within and beyond the text.

Boom Reader is used to track reading both at home and at school. Running records with the children to help to ensure that children are reading books pitched at their reading ability, but the Benchmarking kit will ensure a more accurate picture.

Impact

Impact of the reading curriculum will be monitored in a variety of different way, including the use of learning walks, observations and book looks especially within the teaching of the comprehension side of the curriculum with VIPERS. The use of pupil voice will also be crucial in gaining an understanding of pupil perspective of reading across the school. To ensure books are pitched accurately to ensure pupils are making rapid progress, monitoring of reading folders/diaries, interventions and 1:1 are carried out. Termly assessments are then completed to monitor and evaluate progress in relation to previous key stage.

English Statement of Intent

To deliver an exciting, innovative English curriculum which enables and empowers children's written and oral communication and creativity through collaboration and engagement with a variety of high quality texts.

Implementation

At Glenmere, writing it taught daily in English lesson through steps that are incremental and small with a wealth of deliberate practice. Units are centred around different purposes for writing: to inform, entertain, discuss and persuade. Each year group has a focus of a particular purpose per half-term: in EYFS they begin by writing to entertain, in KS1 they write to inform and entertain, in LKS2 they write to inform, entertain and persuade and in UKS2 they write to inform, entertain, persuade and discuss. This allows knowledge and skills to be mastered. There is a clear and systematic process over a 6 week unit. Units are 6 weeks long where the first two weeks builds the grammatical and technical skills required for the unit, using small steps from STEP Academy Trust, followed by two weeks of high quality teacher modelling and model texts with opportunities to apply the grammar previous taught, leading into an independent piece of writing where children are explicitly taught how to plan, draft, revise and edit their writing. Objectives are revisited within units, building on previous learning.

Our writing curriculum has a number of different elements: handwriting and spelling (transcription), composition and grammar and punctuation – all of which then contributes to well composited pieces of work

Handwriting and Spelling

A structured programme of spelling is implemented across the school, starting with phonics in EYFS and Key Stage 1 (further information can be found in phonics and early reading). As pupils progress the introduction of Emilie Spelling Scheme is made, which includes explicit teaching as well as within writing lessons. As a school, we follow a cursive handwriting – Letter-Join. This is first introduced in EYFS and taught progressively through to Year 6. The scheme weaves in vocabulary and handwriting from other areas of the National Curriculum. Children are taught to use the correct letter formation, sizing and joins which are expected to be applied within their work across the curriculum

Composition

At Glenmere, children are exposed to a range of genres. Within the English Curriculum, each year group has a Yearly Overview, including both fiction and non-fiction, as well as poetry. Units are then split into 3 phases: building on grammatical knowledge and understanding, sentence stacking – which includes a wealth of modelled writing from the teacher – and then the independent application where children plan, draft, revise and edit. This is an opportunity for pupils to independently apply the skills they have obtained which will then be assessed against the National Curriculum. Working Walls play a vital role in supporting the teaching and learning in the classrooms, displaying vocabulary, story maps, 'model' texts shared write and grammatical elements. Children are expected and encouraged to use these walls to support their writing throughout.

Grammar and Punctuation

We believe that grammar should be taught in context and, therefore, is taught within the English lessons and applied across the curriculum.

Impact

Throughout our units of work, ongoing assessments are made by teachers: observations, discussions, marking and feedback as well as questioning to identify understanding. Within each unit, children produce an independent write which form a basis for assessment. Teachers assess the work which publishes and mark against 'Teaching Assessment Framework'. Pupils use the 'Assessment Framework' as a tool for target setting alongside the teacher. Termly assessments are then completed to monitor and evaluate progress in relation to previous key stages.

Impact is also monitored through the use of learning walks, observations and book looks as well as the use of pupil voice across the school.

Speaking and Listening

Progression of Speaking and Listening skills is taken from the Primary English Education Consultancy Limited where the skills are broken down into statements for each year group

Begins to listen and respond appropriately to familiar adults and their peers.  Looks at the person speaking.  Answers questions: 'Yes, that's my favourite too.'	Begins to ask relevant questions to extend their understanding and knowledge.  'I don't understand x, can you help me?'	Begins to use relevant strategies to build their vocabulary.  Uses classroom and personal word banks.  Begins to apply what has been learned, for example when a word begins with	Begins to articulate and justify answers, arguments and opinions.  Begins to use 'because' to make simple justifications drawing on personal experiences.' I like dogs because my Nan has one'.	Begins to give well- structured descriptions, explanations and narratives for different purposes, including for expressing feelings. Use storymaps to recall events.	Begins to maintain attention and participate actively in collaborative conversations, staying on topic and initiating and responding to comments.  Responds to questions and comments when prompted.
May need encouraging to expand on their answers, for example after nodding or replying with a single word response.		un- it's meaning is the opposite of the root word; words that end in -ed are likely to be verbs.	Begins to disagree politely. E.g. maintains a polite tone of voice.	Use simple adverbials of time to order events (e.g. first, next, after that).  Express their own feelings using some simple emotional language.	Takes turns as directed in group or whole class discussions.

	Speaks in full sentences rather than fragments or phrases.

Begins to listen and respond appropriately to a wider range of adults and their peers.  Looks at the person speaking.  Understands how to answer questions in full sentences. 'Yes, I like that character too.'	Begins to ask relevant questions to extend their understanding and knowledge.  'I don't understand x, can you help me?'  'I've finished, what should I do now?'  'Is this right?	Begins to use relevant strategies to build their vocabulary.  Uses classroom and personal word banks, and dictionaries.  Begins to apply what has been learned, for example knowing that the suffixes -er and -est build comparative adjectives.	Begins to articulate and justify answers, arguments and opinions.  Uses 'because' to make simple justifications drawing on personal experiences and opinions. 'I like this book [about zoos] because I like animals'.  Uses sentence stems to support polite disagreement e.g. That's interesting but I think	Begins to give well-structured descriptions, explanations and narratives for different purposes, including for expressing feelings.  Use graphic organisers to support talk for different purposes (e.g. timelines to retell chronological events).  Use simple conjunctions to support descriptions, explanations and narratives (e.g. and, but, so, because, if).  Use an increasing range of emotional language to describe their own and others' feelings (synonyms for simple emotional language).	Begins to maintain attention and participate actively in collaborative conversations, staying on topic and initiating and responding to comments.  Understands the need to take turns. Uses signals such as a raised hand to show their intention to contribute in a class discussion.  May need to use sentence starters or other classroom prompts to help with their responses.
Begins to use spoken language to develop understanding through speculating, hypothesising, imagining and exploring ideas.  Takes a personal approach: 'I think' or after group work: 'We think'  Uses props such as small world figures and puppets to explore and imagine ideas.	Begins to speak audibly and fluently with an increasing command of Standard English.  Uses a louder voice when addressing the class or in a whole school assembly. There may be limited control, e.g. shouting.  Speaks more quietly in 1:1 and group settings.  Makes eye contact with the other children in the group.  Speaks in grammatically sound sentences (e.g. 'We went to town'. Rather than 'We went town').	Begins to participate in discussions, presentations, performances, role play, improvisations and debates.  Present their work to the rest of the class.  Participate in short plays and performances.  Creates improvisations, for example to explore how a character was feeling in a story.	Begins to gain, maintain and monitor the interest of the listener(s).  Uses artefacts and objects to support their talk. For example, bringing a special item to share before describing it in Show and Tell activities.	Begins to consider and evaluate different viewpoints, attending to and building on the contributions of others.  Agrees and disagrees simply, beginning to justify their point of view: 'I like what x said, I think that too because'	Begins to select and use appropriate registers for effective communication.  Begins to choose words that reflect the required register for an interaction. E.g. Saying 'Hi, how are you?' when greeting a friend compared to 'Hello Sir, how can I help you with those books?' when greeting a teacher.

Frequently listens and responds appropriately to adults and their peers.  Maintains eye contact stopping anything else they may have been doing.  Responds politely to questions and offers examples to questions, such as qualifying with because: 'Yes, I like that character because'	Frequently asks relevant questions to extend their understanding and knowledge.  Such as seeking to clarify knowledge: 'Is this an example of a traditional tale?'	Frequently uses relevant strategies to build their vocabulary.  Uses word banks, dictionaries and thesauruses.  Makes links to morphological spelling work to identify word families such as teach, teacher, teaching, teaches, headteacher.	Frequently articulates and justifies answers, arguments and opinions.  Uses 'because' and the immediate evidence to support answers, arguments and opinions.  E.g. 'I think zoos are cruel because in this book it says'  Begins to offer opinions that aren't their own.  This could be through role play.	Frequently gives well- structured descriptions, explanations and narratives for different purposes, including for expressing feelings.  Organises related information using graphic organisers such as spider diagrams and mindmaps to help.  Begins to summarise the main points.	Frequently maintains attention and participates actively in collaborative conversations, staying on topic and initiating and responding to comments.  Appreciates the need to take turns.  Uses prompts and sentence starters to encourage other children to participate.
Frequently uses spoken language to develop understanding through speculating, hypothesising, imagining and exploring ideas.  Conditional clauses may be used to support speculation, e.g. 'If x happens'	Frequently speaks audibly and fluently with an increasing command of Standard English.  Can control their volume to meet the level required for the interaction.  Speaks at a measured pace.  Chooses the correct determiner depending on the starting letter of the following word (an apple; a bat).	Frequently participates in discussions, presentations, performances, role play, improvisations and debates.  Memorise and deliver lines in a performance or play.	Frequently gains, maintains and monitors the interest of the listener(s).  Speaks directly to their audience. Begins to choose words for effect (e.g. alliteration, rhythm and rhyme).	Frequently considers and evaluates different viewpoints, attending to and building on the contributions of others.  Is able to disagree agreeably.	Frequently selects and uses appropriate registers for effective communication.  Chooses full versions of words rather than contractions when speaking more formally.

Frequently listens and responds appropriately to adults and their peers.  Maintains eye contact stopping anything else they may have been doing.  Responds politely to questions and offers examples to questions: 'Yes, I like that character too. Mainly because of'	Frequently asks relevant questions to extend their understanding and knowledge.  Such as seeking to clarify knowledge: 'Is this an example of a traditional tale?'	Frequently uses relevant strategies to build their vocabulary.  Uses word banks, dictionaries and thesauruses with growing confidence.  Makes links to morphological spelling work to identify word families such as teach, teacher, teaching, teaches, headteacher.	Frequently articulates and justifies answers, arguments and opinions.  Uses 'because' and immediate evidence to support answers, arguments and opinions.  E.g. I think zoos are cruel because in this book it says  Is able to present an opinion that is not their own after planning work and discussion with their peers/ the teacher.	Frequently gives well- structured descriptions, explanations and narratives for different purposes, including for expressing feelings.  Organises related information and links it logically, e.g. with adverbials of where, when, how and how many.  Summarises the main points.	Frequently maintains attention and participates actively in collaborative conversations, staying on topic and initiating and responding to comments.  Participates in group and whole class discussions.  Ask questions of other children.
Frequently uses spoken language to develop understanding through speculating, hypothesising, imagining and exploring ideas.  Begins to make generalised speculations as well as personal ones: 'Some people think'  Conditional clauses may be used to support speculation 'If x happens'	Frequently speaks audibly and fluently with an increasing command of Standard English.  Can control their volume to meet the level required for the interaction.  Most subject and verb choices agree. (e.g. was/were; did/done).	Frequently participates in discussions, presentations, performances, role play, improvisations and debates.  Structure their ideas so that they can debate their point of view clearly and coherently.  Deliver lines in a performance or play effectively.	Frequently gains, maintains and monitors the interest of the listener(s).  Thinks about how to gain the listener's attention. E.g. starting with a joke or anecdote.  Uses prosodic skills such as pausing after sentences or raising the tone of their voice to show excitement or a point of high tension in narration.	Frequently considers and evaluates different viewpoints, attending to and building on the contributions of others.  Uses sentence stems and classroom models to practise encouraging other children to contribute.  Is able to organise contributions into categories (e.g. for/against).	Frequently selects and uses appropriate registers for effective communication.  Increasingly aware of the need to adapt language choices to suit the purpose and audience they are speaking to. For example, choosing to use formal vocabulary when addressing the local councillor or MP at a presentation compared to improvising a play based on a funny class novel.

Can listen and respond appropriately to adults and their peers.  Listens actively maintaining eye contact.  Responds to affirm: 'I think that too' and to deepen understanding: 'That's interesting, is it also the case that'	Can ask relevant questions to extend their understanding and knowledge.  Such as making links across a subject area or drawing several strands of information together 'Is that the same as x?' 'Do you think this is similar to when we found out about?'	Can use relevant strategies to build their vocabulary.  Uses dictionaries and thesauruses with increasing effectiveness.  Uses relevant strategies such as their knowledge of prefixes to work out the meaning of words.	Can articulate and justify answers, arguments and opinions.  Uses generalised evidence to support their point of view rather than a wholly personal response. E.g. Some people would argue that It's my opinion and that of several others that	Can give well-structured descriptions, explanations and narratives for different purposes, including for expressing feelings.  Uses personal notes to help them recall and describe key events and descriptions.  Thinks carefully about how ideas are linked together to create cohesion across and within sections. May use planning templates to help them do this.	Can maintain attention and participate actively in collaborative conversations, staying on topic and initiating and responding to comments.  Understands how to encourage conversation in others.  Participates enthusiastically.  Begins to take different doles in group discussions (e.g. chairperson, scribe, summariser).
Can use spoken language to develop understanding through speculating, hypothesising, imagining and exploring ideas.  Uses generalisers: 'some people think' or 'it could be possible to'  Employs modals and adverbs of possibility to speculate 'it may be perhaps it could' alongside a range of conditional clauses to support abstract thinking.	Can speak audibly and fluently with an increasing command of Standard English.  Enunciates clearly.  Varies pace for effect (E.g. Speaking faster to shows excitement or action; slowing their pace to deliver complex information).  Uses Standard English routinely when addressing an audience.	Can participate in discussions, presentations, performances, role play, improvisations and debates.  Prepare for debates by thinking about the opposing views as well as their own arguments.	Can gain, maintain and monitor the interest of the listener(s).  Can use rhetorical devices such as the pattern of three or comparing and contrasting.  Stresses important words for effect or to draw attention to important information.  Uses gesticulation and facial expressions to support meaning.	Can consider and evaluate different viewpoints, attending to and building on the contributions of others.  Encourages other participants to engage in discussion.  Can summarise the main points of a conversation.  Is able to balance opposing views.	Can select and use appropriate registers for effective communication.  Understands that slang and contracted forms are suitable for dialogue, in role play and personal conversations but that formal language structures should be used in the classroom and when talking to visitors to the school.  Considers their audience when selecting vocabulary and sentence structure, e.g when addressing younger children compared to adults.

Can listen and respond appropriately to adults and their peers.  Listens actively maintaining eye contact.  Responds to affirm: 'I think that too' and to deepen understanding: 'That's interesting, is it also the case that'  Uses gesture and body language (e.g. nodding) to show their engagement.	Can ask relevant questions to extend their understanding and knowledge.  Such as making links across a subject area or drawing several strands of information together 'Is that the same as x?' 'Do you think this is similar to when we found out about?'	Can use relevant strategies to build their vocabulary.  Uses dictionaries and thesauruses effectively.  Makes links between words using morphological and etymological knowledge.  E.g. 'I know chrono comes from Greek and it means time. I can assume chronologically means in time order'.	Can articulate and justify answers, arguments and opinions.  Uses evidence from a range of sources e.g. (generalised knowledge and personal opinion) to justify their answers. This may take the form of several points E.g. 'Some people would argue that In this book it says Furthermore, this video shows that Therefore, I think'	Can give well-structured descriptions, explanations and narratives for different purposes, including for expressing feelings.  Can share a complex narrative for example, multiple characters, several events or a non-chronological structure.  Can talk in detail about topics. For example, including many points that are linked cohesively.	Can maintain attention and participate actively in collaborative conversations, staying on topic and initiating and responding to comments.  Can take different roles in group discussions (e.g. chairperson, scribe, summariser).  Builds on the contributions of others.
Can use spoken language to develop understanding through speculating, hypothesising, imagining and exploring ideas.  Uses generalisers: 'some people think' 'it could be possible to'  Employs modals and adverbs of possibility to speculate 'it may be perhaps it could' alongside a range of conditional clauses to support abstract thinking.	Can speak audibly and fluently with an increasing command of Standard English.  Enunciates clearly.  Uses Standard English routinely when addressing an audience. This includes using formal features of Standard English such as the subjunctive form for highly formal interactions.	Can participate in discussions, presentations, performances, role play, improvisations and debates.  Understands the different purposes of these activities and can adapt their spoken language use to suit each outcome. E.g which tasks require formal/informal language structures.	Can gain, maintain and monitor the interest of the listener(s).  Sometimes uses figurative language techniques (e.g. idioms, hyperbole & humour) to engage their audience.  Changes their tone of voice to maintain interest.  Repeats important information if they feel their listener has not heard or understood.	Can consider and evaluate different viewpoints, attending to and building on the contributions of others.  Notices who has and hasn't contributed, managing who they draw into discussions.  Uses adverbials such as however, furthermore, on the other hand etc. to link ideas logically and cohesively.	Can select and use appropriate registers for effective communication.  Knows when different registers are appropriate (e.g. when role playing a conversation with a friend compared to undertaking a formal debate). Can draw on their vocabulary knowledge of more formal language when required.  Can use Standard English structures such as the subjunctive mood to hypothesise or sound highly formal.
